Quinn served on active duty in the Army (Infantry) for 3 plus years, resigning in 1964, with the rank of 1st Lieutenant.

In 1969, he completed law school and passed the bar exam. He represented one of three generations of lawyers in his family. In 1970, he moved to Hardin County where he set up his first law practice in Radcliff, next to Fort Campbell. With his military background, he was in a good position to help soldiers with their legal problems and issues. He continued to practice law from his nearby office in Elizabethtown until his untimely death. He was an avid University of Louisville basketball fan. Quinn passed away on 20 Apr 2013, from injuries resulting from an automobile accident. His car entered the path of a pick-up truck. His wife Sherry was also injured and hospitalized.
